Good morning Galo,

Thanks for the email. I am copying Officer Ramon Ortega of the Los Angeles Police Department. Officer Ortega handles issues with valets.

Officer Ortega, per Galo's email below, there is a property next to his that is employing a valet service that is taking up all the street parking.

The valet should not be taking up spaces on the street; they should be using an off-street lot.

Galo, please provide Officer Ortega with the following information:

- 1) Address of the property in question
- 2) Name of the valet company (if you know it)
- 3) Days/times this generally occurs

Thank you,

Dan Halden

Good morning Daniel. Kerry Morrison gave me your contact information. I wanted to reach out to you with a question or two. My name is Galo Medina and I'm a Hollywood Bl. property owner as well as a Hollywood business owner. Also, I'm on the board of directors of the Hollywood Business Improvement District of which Kerry is our executive director.

As a long time supporter of Mitch going all the way back to when he was liaison to the BID some years ago, I needed to reach out for help on one of the properties I have. This one is on the northeast corner of Hollywood and Bronson Ave. The property just north of mine on Bronson Ave. has for several months blocked the entire street parking for purposes of valet parking for their events. This has literally been for months on weekends without exception.

Serval of my tenants who are commercial store owners (restaurants to retail) have dramatically seen their business go down as to the lack of parking caused by our neighbors. Are they any limits? Any protections my tenants might have on parking abuse?

Please contact me to discuss further as this is becoming a significant problem.

All the best. And talk soon.

Galo Medina
